Your personal details will be held on a computer and used to help run the Association as a membership organisation, to include the collection of subscriptions and delivery of news. Your details will be kept secure, in compliance with data protection principles, and will not be given to third parties. The committee may write to or email you from time to time, with news of interest to members, to find out your views, or to ask for participation in Association activities. If you do not want your details to be held electronically, tell us, but be aware that it may then not be practical to provide you with full membership services.
